

Advicenne completes European commercial coverage of Sibnaya[®] through its agreement with Avanzanite Bioscience

- This new distribution agreement will cover Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and Greece.
- All European markets are now covered either directly or through partnerships.

Paris (France), 28 February 2023 – 7:00am (CET) – Advicenne (Euronext Growth Paris ALDVI - FR0013296746), a specialty pharmaceutical company dedicated to the development and commercialization of innovative treatments for those suffering from rare renal diseases, announced today that it has signed a distribution agreement with Avanzanite Bioscience B.V. ("Avanzanite") for the marketing of Sibnaya[®] (a fixed combination of potassium citrate and potassium bicarbonate) in Germany, the largest pharmaceutical market in Europe, Austria, Switzerland and Greece.

Under the terms of the agreement, Avanzanite is granted exclusive commercialization rights for Sibnaya[®] in its approved indication. Avanzanite will be responsible for conducting pricing and reimbursement negotiations with local regulatory authorities, as well as marketing and commercial activities. Advicenne will continue to hold the marketing authorization (MA) for Sibnaya[®] in the European Union. In Switzerland, Avanzanite will be responsible for filing the marketing authorization. In return, like with its existing agreements, Advicenne will receive the proceeds from the sale of Sibnaya[®] in the form of a transfer price and royalties.

With this agreement allowing Sibnaya[®] to be made available to German patients, Advicenne has completed its coverage of the five major European countries, either on its own or through partnerships. Sibnaya[®] is now being marketed throughout Europe which should significantly improve access to care for patients, and drive sales from 2023 onward.

Adam Plich, Founder and CEO of Avanzanite said: "The agreement with Advicenne perfectly illustrates our mission – both ethical and economic – to bring innovative medicines to rare disease patients in European markets no matter where they live."

Didier Laurens, Chief Executive Officer of Advicenne, concluded: "We are very pleased to team with Avanzanite and its recognized expertise in rare diseases and market access. We are convinced that this partnership will enable us to make Sibnaya[®] available to the largest number of patients, particularly in Germany, the largest European pharmaceutical market. The completion of the coverage of the main markets in Europe is a major milestone in the further development of Advicenne and makes us extremely confident in the future of Sibnaya[®] and Advicenne."

About Avanzanite Bioscience

Avanzanite is a pharmaceutical company on a mission to redefine the commercialization of orphan medicines to improve patient access across Europe and beyond. Derived from the word 'Tanzanite' – one of the rarest and most underappreciated gemstones on earth – Avanzanite was formed to capitalize on two primary objectives, one economic, and one humanitarian. The economic goal of Avanzanite is to offer end-to-end commercialization and distribution partnerships to research-based biopharmaceutical originators to unlock the full value of their orphan medicines in European markets. This is the unique expertise and core competency of the Avanzanite team through its decades of operating experience navigating this area. Equally important, the Company's humanitarian goal stems from the commitment to enabling access to novel medicines for patients who suffer from orphan diseases regardless of where in Europe they live. For more information: www.avanzanite.com
